Made by the Genesee Brewing Co. of Rochester, N.Y. It is made from the best German Hops and Canada Malt, and bottled in white flint glass, at the brewery, under the supervision of those who make it. It is absolutely pure.

In the summer many need a light tonic, and this Lager appears to be better adapted to such cases than the heavier Ales and Porters.

REV. MR. SAMSON SPOKE.

A LARGE CONGREGATION HEARD HIM AT CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH.

Welcomed Back by His Old Parishioners—

Christian Love Comes From a Pure Heart—The Greatest of the Graces—A Fine Sermon—To Preach Next Sunday.

At Calvary Baptist church yesterday morning Rev. Thomas S. Samson, a former pastor, now of the Free Street Baptist church in Portland, Me., preached from the text, first Timothy 1-5: "Now the end of the commandment is charity out of a pure heart and of a good conscience, and of faith unfeigned." Mr. Samson said that the Apostle John writes of faith, while Paul writes of love. One has only to read superficially the writings of John to find faith in the Lord Jesus discussed. In the epistles of Paul love is always associated with faith. There is no more full analysis of love than Paul has written. He tells us of the faith which is helped by love, and that love is the greatest of graces. In a word the end and aim of the gospel of Jesus is love. This is an act of the emotions, and it has its seat in the heart. In this it differs from hope and faith, which are intellectual acts from the unity of the established law of God. Faith is a longing, a desire or a feeling, which prompts us to seek the object of expectation. It cannot perhaps be said that the intellect is wholly unconcerned in love. Love is unlike hope in that it has for its object not our own personal self, but someone outside ourselves. Love is the offspring of faith and hope, and when these two cause love, the latter reacts and strengthens the former two. Practically this grace of Christian love exerts a greater influence than its sister graces. Christian love is the leading, the uppermost loop in the chain, which binds the heart of man to the throne of God. It is the attachment of one soul for another, is a spiritual act, and has a spiritual object. Knowledge of God is that which makes manifest to us the likeness of God, and man has a love of God not alone from the attributes of his soul. It is not surprising that the new testament put such emphasis on the life of Christ. When we love God through Christ we are to believe that Christ was God manifest in the flesh. The Christian doctrine is that we are to love God as He is and men as they are. Christian love is to issue from a pure heart and from a good conscience, which is the soul's perspective power. Conscience instructs us between right and wrong, and leads us to duty.

Now we can see what love has to do in promoting Christian faith. If God so loved us that He gave His only son, then how much ought we to love Him. It is not possible for Christian love to respond to other than spiritual love. The love of Christ was the greatest attribute of His character. The end of the commandment is then truly charity out of a pure heart and from a good conscience.

The church was well filled with Rev. Mr. Samson's old parishioners and friends, and at the close of the service all went to the altar to shake his hand and welcome him back. He preached last evening also and will occupy the same pulpit next Sunday morning and evening.

IN FINE TRIM.

Poll's Theater in Splendid Shape—Manager Poll Entertains Representatives of the Newspapers.

The members of the press were royally entertained on Saturday evening by Manager Poll at his theater. The lobby was brilliantly illuminated, and under the soft incandescent light it showed to great advantage. The lobby is nearly new. The paneling has a silver tracing on the border circumscribing a delicate tracery of flowers. Passing from the lobby into the auditorium of the theater the same designs which are carried out in the lobby are continued, the whole making a beautifully artistic effect.

On reaching the auditorium the house was found to be brilliantly illuminated, the same as if a performance was in progress. The different scenes painted during the summer by Professor De La Harpe of Brooklyn were shown in succession. First was exhibited the olio scene with tormentors and flies. The scene portrayed here is copied from the borders of Lake Whitney, being the very scene in which a local subject is taken. Next was shown a cottage scene and afterwards in succession a wood scene, a street scene, a palace scene, a moonlight water scene and several others, making ten complete and entire sets of scenery.

The lighting arrangements for the stage are of the latest and most approved description. For the footlights there is a triple row of incandescent electric lights, one row containing colored globes. Midway on the stage on either side is a lamp whose rays may be thrown directly upon the person on the stage, which, combined with another lamp of the same sort located in the balcony, makes it possible to create the most brilliant stage effects. These lamps are a recent European invention and were put in by the Mayrhofer Electric Stage Lighting company of New York. They do away entirely with the use of the old kerosene lights, thus averting all danger from fire.

Four electric fans have been put in, two on either side of the auditorium, making it possible at all times to send a current of cool air through the entire theater.

Many people passed in and out the lobby, and refreshments were served to the members of the press and a few invited guests.

GOOD CITY GOVERNMENT.

A substantial addition to the literature of municipal reform and government will be made in the forthcoming volume of the Proceedings of the Minneapolis and Cleveland Conferences for Good City Government, which will be published by the National Municipal league about the middle of September. It will contain all the papers read at these two important meetings and the discussions incident thereto. These papers treat of the municipal conditions of the leading American cities north, south, east and west, and deal with the prominent features of the movement for municipal reform. Among the cities
